Anti social behaviour (ASB) is a serious issue that negatively impacts all our communities, and it's our problem-solving champions AKA our neighbourhood policing teams who tackle ASB and get to the root cause of any issues alongside response officers, and investigation teams.

It's business as usual for all our teams, but as we move into January, we will be continuing to support the Home Office initiative, Winter of Action, which is a continuum of the Yuletide Winter of Action, shining a spotlight on the teams that sit at the very core of policing.

Over the next few weeks, we're going to be sharing a series of case studies from all over our force area, which shine a light on all the proactive problem-solving our Neighbourhood Policing Teams have been focusing on in your area.

Hear more from force lead for ASB, Superintendent Doug Blackwood.

Patrolling the coast and tackling ASB

In line with the Home Office Winter of Action initiative, local Neighbourhood Policing Teams who cover the Driffield and Bridlington areas within the East Riding of Yorkshire have been reflecting on the successes they saw, and continue to see the impact of, as part of our Safer Streets Summer.

We spoke to Neighbourhood Policing Inspector Ian Foster about the work his teams have been up to.

CRIME PREVENTION

Make it a resolution to keep your bike safe #OpYuletide

Bikes have often been favoured as gifts during the festive period – whether it's your first bike or the latest top of the range racer! No matter what you spend on them, they are still a valued gift.

Being such a popular gift, it's important to ensure they are kept safe and secure.

Unfortunately, cycle theft remains high in our force area and we are encouraging cycle owners to ensure they register their bike, whether it is new old, on Bike Register:

<https://www.bikeregister.com/> or Immobilise: <http://www.immobilise.com/>.

A lot of cycle theft is undertaken by opportunist thieves who notice an unlocked and unattended cycle as a perfect target for their crime.

It's important to remember to be careful when sharing details about bikes on social media, as some use it to target high value cycles and identify possible cycles to steal.

If you are looking to buy a bike, always make sure you are buying from a reputable source.

Any vehicle can be stolen — but high-spec models and sports cars remain the most sought after.

Cars today can be taken in a variety of ways. Faraday bags can help, but only for some vehicles. They are not a universal fix. If you're unsure, ask questions and do your research.

Many people don't realise that some cars can be stolen without the key being present. Offenders can exploit the vehicle's own signal to clone its identity. This isn't a myth — it's reality.

Secondary security is now essential

If you own something desirable, modern, shiny, or in demand, you must consider extra protection:

- Aftermarket alarms (always check your warranty first)
- Steering locks
- Immobilisers
- Pedal boxes
- Tracking devices — not mobile-phone app trackers, which are easily disabled

These measures don't make your vehicle impossible to steal, but they make you a far less attractive target.

We strongly advise checking the list of most stolen cars in the UK this year so you understand your risk level.

Buying cars online – especially on Facebook Marketplace

The stolen and cloned vehicle market is out of control, and every day we seize cars from innocent buyers who thought they'd found a bargain. Criminals rely on rushed sales, low prices, and convincing stories.

To protect yourself:

- Meet the seller at their home, not in a car park
- Ask for ID and go inside the property
- Pay by bank transfer, not cash
- Only buy during DVLA taxing hours so you can tax the car immediately
- Check all VIN numbers and verify the vehicle's history
- Film the transaction
- And remember: if it seems too good to be true — walk away

Times are tough, and cheap deals can be tempting. But please don't become a victim.

We also encourage anyone who owns plant machinery or high-value vehicles to take steps to secure their assets. This includes installing trackers, using security marking kits, and applying physical security measures. Guidance on approved products can be found through Secured by Design.

If you have any information about vehicle or machinery theft, please contact us on 101 or report anonymously via Crimestoppers.

FORCE NEWS

Introducing Bobbi: Policing's First AI Virtual Assistant

Humberside Police are proud to be one of the first forces in the country to trial a pioneering new way for the public to get in touch.

On Tuesday 25 November 2025 we introduced the AI Virtual Assistant, known as Bobbi, which has been built on the Salesforce Agentforce platform and is designed to answer frequently asked, non-emergency questions that would normally come into our Force Control Rooms and get directed to a call handler.

Alongside our existing online forms, telephone lines, and front counters, Bobbi offers an additional service, giving members of the public the ability to ask questions and seek advice 24/7.

The Forcer Protocol

Do you know someone who has served our country who is at risk of going missing due to acute mental distress?

We understand nothing is more worrying or distressing than when a loved one, friend, or someone you know goes missing and does not return when expected.

For people living with UK veterans, serving HM Armed Forces personnel or reservists, there may be many complexities, concerns or vulnerabilities surrounding them which may mean that sadly this could be a common occurrence.

We will do all we can to help locate missing people and get them home safely as quickly as possible – particularly when they are vulnerable.

Often, UK veterans, serving HM Armed Forces personnel, and reservists may have known health conditions, triggers, and safe places they may head to when in distress, so having details of these written down in case of emergency can really help speed up the search and help you access the right support.

From today (Monday, 15 December 2025), Humberside Police have therefore adopted the nationwide Forcer Protocol, established in honour of Alan Forcer, a veteran who tragically took his own life. The protocol was developed to ensure that no one who has served our country is left without rapid, compassionate intervention during moments of acute mental distress.

Neighbourhood Watch launches new strategy

As you may know, 2025 saw Neighbourhood Watch come to the end of our five-year strategy. We started work with members, staff and stakeholders to develop a new strategy which will shape our work until 2030.

After extensive collaboration and consultation, the strategy has now been published. We are very grateful to all the members, staff, volunteers and stakeholders who gave up their time to contribute to this important and inspiring work. Read the full strategy document and find out more on our website.

National Crime and Community Survey

The results of the 2025 National Crime and Community Survey are in, and they reveal a nation feeling increasingly on edge. More than thirty-eight thousand respondents shared their experiences.

What emerged is that nearly 42% of respondents believe crime levels in their neighbourhood have risen in the past year, similar to the figure reported in the previous year's survey. Read the full story on our website.

Funding for police announced by Home Office

The Home Office has announced that police forces across England and Wales are set to receive a funding boost of up to £798 million in the next financial year. This brings total funding up to £19.5 billion.

The majority of this funding is for local forces, with an additional £746 million allowing them to prioritise the crimes impacting their communities, including knife crime, anti-social behaviour and shop theft. Full story here.
