Would You Like to Write a Newsletter Article?

The East Wolds Community Newsletter is looking for volunteers interested in writing small articles, centred on their village.

The pieces should be about local history, geography, interesting people, folklore, wildlife, architecture, your activities club, or anything else that might garner local interest. It's fascinating to hear people's stories about life in this rural area so perhaps you could draw on your memories for a narrative about your experience of life here.

It doesn't need to be a monthly column, but it would be good to publish regular and varied features in addition to the current what's on guides and community news.

Time to get walking again!

With Spring on its way we start to think about getting out to walk in the beautiful English countryside again, but where to find new and interesting walks?

Walking in Yorkshire

walkinginengland.co.uk/yorkshire has loads of walks to download and print, free. It also has books of walks, details of all the walking groups in the county and much more. Whether you want to walk on your own or with a group all the information is there in one place.

John Harris (who maintains the website) said 'There is so much walking information on the web but it is difficult to find. Walking in Yorkshire (part of the Walking in England website) has brought it together in one place so whether you are walking from home, or away on holiday, you will be able to find a walk suitable for you'.

With walks from half a mile to twelve miles plus long, and a note of suitability for pushchairs and wheelchairs, everyone can find a walk to enjoy.

So home or away, check out the websites and get walking!

ALL SAINTS' CHURCH

Wold Newton

We can all thank Norman William for this rare gem of a church. It was built on the blood of his 'Harrying of the North' and his consequent guilt. Worried about his immortal soul, he gave extra land for churches. William's nephew, Gilbert de Grant, held the land around here. He founded All Saints', Hunmanby, and then 'daughter' churches, of which Wold Newton's is one.

The original, simple church was completed by the turn of the century and so links closely to the establishment of the Norman rule. It is classed as a Grade 2* listed, unique, stone building. Refurbished by the Victorians.

Its undeniably magnificent and unique feature is the tympanum of the fine (quite untouched) Norman doorway. The lozenge pattern is indicative of the very early years of Stephen's reign (1135 – 1154) and was probably engraved as the church grew in importance. Look for the wonderful goose engraved on the left-hand column. Geese were important in this area (Grindale references geese as does Kirby Grindalythe).

There is a Priest's door on the South side of the Chancel, which also acted as a 'Lepers' Door' where those afflicted could worship and see the altar.

An unusual feature is the small bell tower, which is clad in wooden shingle (rare for the North of England). There are just the 2 bells, but they are of great interest. The treble bell is blank, but is typical of the 17th Century and is listed by the Church Building Council as 'worthy of preservation'. The tenor bell is dated 1694 and carries the badge of Samuel Smith. Samuel Smith 1 cast bells between 1671 and 1709 and worked at Toft Green, York. It is inscribed 'GLORIA()IN() ALTIS-SIMIS() DEO()1694.

The font dates from the 12th Century. It is a simple tub design, with ropework near the rim and zig-zag patterns interspersed with foliage.

The mainly stained-glass windows are also notable; some are by Kempe & Co., the pre-eminent, Victorian firm, whose trademark was a wheatsheaf. They produced a beautiful small window in the Chancel depicting St. Cecilia, patron saint of musicians. It is dedicated to a very long-serving organist and music organiser.

The church is very fortunate in that it resisted the modernisers of the 1970s and 1980s and managed to retain its pipe organ (now with an electric pumping system!). This organ is a rare example built by Hopkins and Co. of York in 1901 – it is thought that their total of built organs is less than 10 – and it has been visited and played by musicians from all over the country.

There is so much else of note and 'need to see' in this small church that a visit is essential. Memorial plaques, the probably unique War Memorial in the porch, and an ancient Royal coat of Arms plus boards bearing the Lord's Prayer & the Ten Commandments on the West wall.

Outside, the nearest gravestone to the porch marks the resting place of John Shipley. He was the shepherd who was plastered with mud and grass when, in December 1795, a huge meteorite smashed into the earth a few feet away from him. This began space exploration as the track of the meteorite proved for the first time that it came from outer space!

The antiquity of the church combines with the care and work of churchgoers and the wider village to keep it in good repair and available as a community space. It houses the 'book swap' as well as holding church services and is kept open for visiting and community use by a large rota of villagers. It is a living church.

The last few years have seen the collapse of the vestry floor in the North aisle (a Victorian addition) and its replacement as a new space with kitchen facilities, a modern and efficient boiler and the creation of a space for a W.C., accessed from outside. This has taken a great deal of dedicated work and generosity from so many sources and people. The next stage is to raise the funds to enable the W.C. to become functional.

Those reading this who are aged under 30 years of age have a chance of celebrating the 1,000th anniversary of the founding of this wonderful little centre of worship in the Wolds!

So much more to see, such an ancient ambience to experience. You are welcome here.

Langtoft Coffee Mornings

Regular Langtoft coffee mornings are being held this year, They are on the last Friday of each month in Langtoft Church Room and run from 10am to 12 noon. All proceeds will be donated to the Langtoft Church Room Funds.

Everyone is welcome so please join us for a relaxed social gathering. It's the perfect time to meet and chat with other residents while at the same time supporting the Langtoft Church Room.

This month's coffee morning is Friday 24th March from 10am and the following one is on April 28th. The coffee morning dates will be listed each month in the 'What's On' section of this newsletter.

Online Scam

The police in East Yorkshire have been made aware of a new online scam. It involves iHappy, an online dating and friendship platform. Criminals are befriending vulnerable people and getting them to purchase online vouchers from the likes of Amazon. The offender then claims the value of the voucher by using the serial number on the voucher.

Please be vigilant when online and talking to new people who you do not know.

Never give out details such as your banking information or personal data and never purchase vouchers for people who you do not know. This applies to all Internet activity and platforms not just iHappy.

Updates from Cllrs Owen Dewhirst and Evison

Budget

On Thursday 9th February, East Riding of Yorkshire Councillors set the budget for the forthcoming year.

It has been one of the most challenging years we can remember & whilst the aim is always to try & keep costs down as much as possible a rise of 4.99% was agreed.

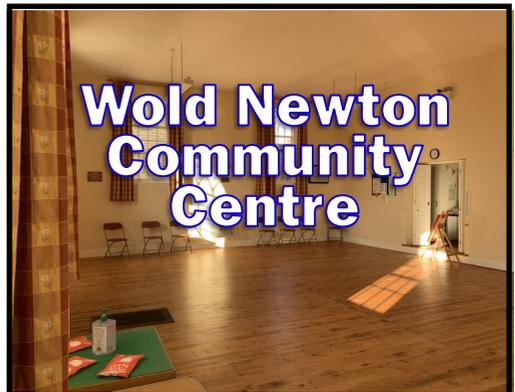

It may help to understand that this is made up of 2.99% to cover the cost pressures across all our 600 plus services and 2% to go towards Adult Social Care. Government stated that their funding towards local authorities included an expectation that we would do this.

We were acutely aware of the cost of living pressures faced by us all and the council is no exception, it is also experiencing great pressures in terms of current and future wage settlements, increased energy and fuel costs as well as the social care costs supporting a growing elderly population.

In fact, these issues mean we have to find an additional £36 million this coming year to balance the books which will be met by using £7 million from reserves, £10 million from the Council tax increase and then having to find the balance of around £19 million by more efficient ways of working.

We think residents value the services offered by ERYC & we want to ensure they are protected. We will also continue to provide support for those in need through our Help for Households and Help for Business initiatives which can be readily accessed by going onto

Tombola in Support of Smile

This month's coffee morning, at the Wold Newton Community Centre, will feature a tombola, run by Angie Barnes. It is to raise funds for 'Smile'.

Smile is a charity that supports families, carers, and parents who have children affected by spina bifida and hydrocephalus. More information about the charity can be found on their website here: shinecharity.org.uk

The coffee morning takes place on the usual last Saturday of the month and this time around falls on Sat 25th March between 10 am and 12 noon.

Come and grab a cuppa and a bacon sandwich or a piece of cake and don't forget to support Smile by having a go or two on the tombola.
